Will infuse with new life the weakest invalid.

37 Walker St., Baltimore, Dec. 1881.

For six years I have been a great sufferer from Blood Disease, Dyspepsia, and Constipation, and became so debilitated that I could not retain anything on my stomach. In fact, life had almost become a burden. Finally, when hope had almost left me, my husband secured Brown's Iron Bitters, advertised in the paper, induced me to give it a trial. I am now taking the third bottle and have not felt so well in six years as I do at the present time. Mrs. L. F. GRAY.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will have a better tonic effect upon any one who needs "bracing up" than any medicine made.

PERSONALS.

Alexander Dumas fils is now in his eighty-third year.

Queen Victoria's household has a retinue of 94 servants.

Harriet Beecher Stowe is spending the winter on her Florida plantation.

Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, son of the great London divine, has returned to England.

Ex-President Hayes has settled down at his Fremont, Ohio, residence for the winter.

Longfellow's study remains just as he left it. Not a book or a piece of furniture has been moved.

Princess Dolgorouky, morganatic wife of the late Czar of Russia, is at Nice with a large retinue.

New York's new Governor, Grover Cleveland, is a native of Caldwell, N. J., where he was born in 1837.

Bishop Paddock of Washington Territory is reported seriously ill at his former home in Norwich, Conn.

Peter Cooper is said to be steadily failing, though suffering from no disease. He is in his ninety-fourth year.

Le Clarion says that Louise Michel, the Communist, is about to "Sarah Bernhardt-ize" herself by going on the stage as a dramatic star.

Field-Marshal Count von Moltke recently passed the twenty-fifth anniversary of his appointment as Chief of the German General Staff.

Mrs. Mackay, according to the London World, is recovering from her recent severe illness and the physicians now announce that she is out of danger.

The wife of the Chinese Minister at Washington has lately adopted the dress usual among fashionable American ladies; and it is said to be very becoming to her.

Rev. Joseph Cook says his recent lecture tour around the world did not quite pay expenses, although he delivered 250 lectures and got as high as $300 a night.

Proctor Knott is described as a florid, portly Southern man, with a stubble gray mustache, a hat pushed knowingly over his left eye, with a comical look, mingled with such shrewdness as tells the poorest reader of character that he is a born wit.

Alvan G. Clark is mounting a new 16-inch aperture telescope at Rochester Observatory. The telescope is said to be the finest ever made by the Clarks, and the lenses are separated by a space of several inches for better ventilation and more rapid cooling of the instrument.

The following story is told of a Georgia legislator: "Senator Pike left the joint session the other day pending the roll on the election of Judge Lawson, to see the circus procession that was passing the Capitol. He was so impressed with 'Bolivar,' the big elephant, that when he rushed back into the hall he cried out: 'I change my vote from Bolivar to Lawson!'"

Another story about Mme. Nilsson and the autograph hunters: A few days ago she yielded to an importunate applicant. Glancing through the book she saw on the last page the inscription, "Last but not least. Adeline Patti." Seizing a pen she wrote on the inside of the cover, facing this, "Last and least. Christine Nilsson Ronzeaud."

Eugene Hale's old schoolmaster, down in Maine, says that some of the farmers' boys who were better clothes than Eugene used to laugh at him. Some of those boys are now eking out an existence on fifty acres of clay and swamp land, while Eugene Hale is a United States Senator, and the husband of a lady whose estates will soon be valued at a million and a half of money.

The ex-Mayor of Manchester, Va., Hon. J. A. Gentry, suffered with acute rheumatism; but by using St. Jacobs Oil he was cured.

WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION.

It will be the duty of the legislators of Ormsby county to be on the qui vive from the commencement to the close of the session to checkmate any and all attempts on part of the Washoe members to interfere with the present State Prison, for the Reno papers have already commenced their advocacy of its removal to their town. There is no more need of taking the prison from its present location than for bringing Lake's bridge from Reno to Carson.—Carson Tribune.

The Tribune is worried for fear Carson may lose the prison, but as a matter of public expediency it is necessary to do something to relieve tax payers of the heavy burden of maintaining the prison at that place. Convict labor can only be utilized in Carson in the manufacture of boots and shoes, and that is not profitable. So long as the prison remains on its present site, just so long will the tax payers have to pay from 50 cents to 75 cents per day per man for every convict within the walls of the penitentiary. In the present condition of the State's finances that is a luxury that cannot well be afforded to gratify Carson in her whimsical notion that the removal of the prison would be a serious blow to her interests. As a matter of economy something should be done, and speedily, too. The Gazette would suggest that the legislators lay aside all feelings that they may have for any local interests, and discuss the question from a more business-like standpoint. There is certainly a way to solve the problem and relieve the State of that burden. The expenses can surely be made much less than they now are, and if the Legislature will give the subject that honest consideration it demands, the prison can be made self-sustaining in two years' time. The State owns over 300 acres of the finest land within her borders, located just below Reno. The products of the land would go far towards maintaining that institution, and a thorough and impartial investigation of this subject may be of the greatest interest to the State.

The Postmaster-General has adopted a schedule fixing the rate at which stamped envelopes will be sold after January 1. The law provides that these envelopes shall be furnished to purchasers at the cost of production, and by the advantageous terms secured through a new contract, the Department is enabled to reduce the price about ten per cent. The present rate is about twenty per cent. lower than the cost under the contract, and the Department is now able to sell the letter size of these envelopes at $1 80 per 1,000, in addition to the postage, while the cost twelve years ago for an inferior article was $4 80 per 1,000.

WESTERN TELEGRAMS.

Adams' Secretary—Cassidy Goes.
EUREKA, Nev., Dec. 2.
Governor-elect Adams has selected Hon. Geo. W. Merrill of this place as his private secretary. Mr. Merrill was defeated for the office of Attorney General in the recent election by less than 50 votes. His appointment by Governor Adams gives great satisfaction in this section of the State.
Representative Cassidy departed for Washington yesterday.

Thurlow Weed's Affidavit About the Famous Morgan Case.
St. Louis, Dec. 2.

Masonic circles are commenting on Weed's affidavit about the disappearance of Morgan. General Albert Pike, head of the Scottish Rite Masons, says he has seen these statements of Weed's published before: "I do not think the men whom Weed mentions were mentioned at the time. The Masons know no more about the matter than anyone else. Perhaps at the time it might have been known among a few members of lodges in New York. Of course, every man concerned in it, if Morgan was really murdered, should have been hung. An obligation which a Mason takes expressly states that he is not compelled to do anything against his conscience or the laws of his country. The order does not shield guilt, though there may be among its members very exceptional cases of men so ignorant that if serving on a jury they might think themselves bound by it to acquit a brother Mason, guilty or innocent."

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to Evening Gazette.

EASTERN DISPATCHES

The President's Message.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.

The President's message and report of the Secretary of the Treasury were submitted to the Cabinet at this afternoon's session and carefully considered. The main features of both documents had been discussed at former meetings of the Cabinet, so that to-day's work was mainly revisory. To-night they were sent to the printer, who will be held responsible for their safe keeping till the time for their return for regular transmission to Congress on Monday next. The message of last year covered 32 pages of printed pamphlet. The message of the present year will not cover more than 25 of such pages. He recites the fact of the passage of an immigration treaty with China, and announces that under direction of the State Department arrangements have been effected for carrying its provisions into operation. South American troubles are treated in a succinct review of what has been done by this government in the direction of an amicable adjustment of pending difficulties between belligerents. Touching the tariff, the President renews his recommendation of last year that the existing law needs revision. He expresses a hope that the labors of and report of the Tariff Commission may be so enlightening as to facilitate Congress in dealing with the subject. The President congratulates Congress upon the passage of last session's law for the suppression of polygamy in the territory of Utah. The Commissioners appointed under the law have been engaged in their labors in Utah and have made commendable progress. There were, and remain, obstacles of no mean order to overcome which the President hopes may disappear without occasion for more stringent legislation. The failure of the people of that territory to accept the law in its full spirit was, he says, perhaps to have been expected to some extent, because of the radical change of the election system heretofore prevailing, and the natural aversion to the law of the great majority of the people of the territory. He recommends the continuance of the Commission until it shall have been demonstrated that there is no longer any practical necessity for its use.

Vandals in the Yellowstone Park.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.

Superintendent Caugher of the Yellowstone National Park has made a report to the Secretary of the Interior, in concluding which he says of the vandalism there: "I have hardly patience to discuss this subject without passion. Most of the depredations committed seem to me so entirely purposeless that I am unable to conceive the reason that impels men and women to destroy merely for destruction's sake. What do we think of the man who will pack long poles, as heavy as he can carry, a great distance, for the purpose of throwing them into the cone and down the throat of these great geysers, when the only possible effect must be to obstruct their flow and mar their beauty?"

California Politics in Chicago.
CHICAGO, Dec. 2.

W. W. Morrow of California, defeated candidate for Congressman at large, is here to-night. He takes his defeat philosophically and is not disheartened about the party. He attributes it to the position of the two parties on the Sunday law and to secessions to the prohibition ranks. He thinks the pendulum is liable to swing the other way next time. Page's defeat is only a part of the general catastrophe. Dennis Kearney, he said, supported the Democratic ticket, but he could not say what following he had.

Railroad Reaching Out.
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 2.

Captain W. S. Monroe has been awarded the contract for grading, track-laying, bridging, etc., 100 miles into Mexico, by the Mexican Pacific Construction Company. Colonel Huntington will inspect the Southern Pacific as far as completed—from San Antonio to San Francisco. Connection of the approaching tracks will be made about the 6th instant.

Another Wreck and Loss of Life.
PITCOT, Dec. 2.

The schooner H. Folger, loaded with coal, went ashore at Salmon Point reef Thursday night. She was commanded by Captain William S. Donald and had a crew of eight men, all lost. Two bodies, one supposed to be the captain, were washed ashore to-day. The Folger was a large three masted schooner.

Hankering for Blood.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.

A gentleman of this city has just received a note from Capt. W. Page McCarthy asking the loan of dueling pistols, from which it is inferred that Senator Riddleberger has sent a challenge. It is represented that the Virginia Democrats have decided that Riddleberger must be shot. McCarthy is a cousin of Fitzhugh Lee and served on his staff during the war. He is almost a dead shot and a man of unbounded nerve. Five years ago he fought Mordecai near Richmond, and when wounded leaned against a tree and insisted on a second shot.

—The insult given Senator Riddleberger by Captain Page McCarthy and the anticipated duel between them have been subjects of excited comment here to-day. McCarthy is still concealed near the city and friends here, it is understood, have his address and every convenience for affording Senator Riddleberger opportunity to send a challenge should he desire it. It is said Riddleberger has not availed himself of the opportunity. He will leave this city for New York, where Senator Mahone is now sojourning, but whether he goes to seek advice from Mahone is a matter of conjecture. Anti-Mahone men are chuckling over what they regard as Riddleberger's back down. It is supposed McCarthy will remain in hailing distance of Richmond as long as Riddleberger is hereabouts, and then return to his post at Washington.

Treaty With the Indians.
CHICAGO, Dec. 2.

A Standing Rock special says the Sioux Commissioners, after four councils with the Indians, Thursday afternoon secured signatures to the required agreement making the northern boundary of the reservation the Cannon-ball river, the eastern boundary the low-water line of the Missouri river, the southern the Grand river, and the western the 102d meridian, making about 60 miles of river front. About 300 Indians are now here, and 1,500 more are expected from Sitting Bull's band and the Crow Creek agency. Each man, woman and child gets a cow; they will be given aid in building houses, and farming machines will be furnished free for ten years, and the government maintains schools for twenty years. Annuities will continue till they become self-supporting. A similar agreement will be made with the Indians at Pine Ridge, Rosebud and Santee agencies, and an immense acreage be thus thrown open to the white settlers.

A Desperate Lunatic.
CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 1.

August Vondeleke, living in the northern part of the city, who has manifested signs of insanity, this afternoon was discovered by his wife brandishing a great butcher-knife over the throat of her sleeping daughter. She seized his arm and saved the child's life. The maniac turned upon his wife, and after a fearful struggle, in which the woman caught the blade in her hand, disengaged his right hand and in an instant more would have killed her but for the appearance of a policeman. He was disarmed and in a few moments cut his throat with a razor.

Fatalities on the Road.
CINCINNATI, Dec. 1.

To-night near Falmouth, Ky., a passenger train on the Kentucky Central Railroad collided with a freight and engineer Ben Early and fireman Wm. Gray of the passenger train were killed. A number of passengers, it is rumored, are more or less injured.

The Billiard Champions.
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.

The cushion carom billiard game between Sexton and Daly, was won by the former. The score of Sexton was 600 points; Daly's 456; number of innings 151. Best runs—Sexton 27, 21, 19; Daly 24, 22, 15.

Distress in Germany.
BERLIN, Dec. 1.

In the Diet to-day Von Puttkamer stated that the damage by the overflow of the Rhine could not be repaired without drawing upon the resources of the State. He had requested the Emperor to sanction a grant of 500,000 marks to relieve distress in the flooded districts. The Diet will be asked for funds as soon as the amount required has been ascertained. All members of the Left are indignant at the presentation in the Reichstag of the budget for 1883.

The English Channel Tunnel.
PARIS, Dec. 1.

A party of Englishmen, members of trades unions, visited Leon Say and De Freycinet to-day. The latter acquainted the callers with his views on the scheme for tunnelling the English Channel. De Freycinet said the idea of French invasion in the event of the channel scheme being carried out was not admissible, as the English would rise as one man and repel invasion. Moreover what hostile army would risk engagement in a narrow tube 40 kilometres long.

A Defiant Agitator.
DUBLIN, Dec. 1.

Davitt says that not being morally conscious of having broken the law or leading others to break the law, he should remain in Ireland until Monday, when, if not arrested, he intended to proceed to the north of England to give a series of lectures. If arrested because of his speech at Navan on the 25th ult, in which he eulogized the action of the Irish Parliamentary party, Davitt said he had decidedly determined not to enter recognizances for good behavior, but would compel the government to prove his guilt in a court of law and take the consequences. Davitt added that he would not lecture Sunday as he had promised, as he was suffering from a severe cold.

NOTICES.

The County Commissioners will meet next Monday.

Cold weather at Peavine. Prospecting will soon cease for the winter.

Cigars of royal fragrance at Davis & Son's, Virginia street or Commercial Row.

Davis & Son, the tobacconists, are doing a good business in their new store.

Take a bath at Coleman & Pechner's and get shaved—look nice and feel nice.

Railroad travel is getting light again, though the northern stages are well filled.

Ladies of the Congregational Church are preparing for a Christmas tree for the Sunday school scholars.

Birthday, Christmas and New Year cards at Nasby's. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1, 3—25, 42, 44, 48, 52.

It would be a good idea to get up a general Christmas tree this year, upon which everybody can hang presents.

The good weather has continued longer than anybody expected. It is reasonable to look for a change now.

The Indians are said to be killing large numbers of deer on Madeline Plains, about 100 miles north of Reno.

I. Barnett's Palace of Fashion is a favorite resort for ladies who desire to purchase choice articles of dry goods, etc.

The comet is now so pale under the light of the moon as to be invisible to any but naked eyes of the greatest power.

Vegetables, fresh and salt-water fish, venison, crabs, shrimps, oysters, ducks, turkeys and geese are plentiful in our markets.

The Red Canyon mines are beginning to attract attention. A San Francisco company has bonded a location there.

Phil Reese's new blacksmith and machine shop is fast progressing toward completion and will be in operation before long.

County Treasurer Boyd has forwarded $32,000 to the State on account of his December settlement. The total for Washoe will be about $36,000.

The merchants are evidently not despondent. Large invoices of goods have been received during the week, and the shelves are being filled from floor to ceiling.

The Saturday night social dances are always well attended in Reno. The music furnished by Hastings & Fredrick's band is sufficient attraction to draw a crowd, to say nothing of the dancing.

Mr. J. N. Evans will endeavor to obtain a new trial in the cause of Brown vs. Evans, lately tried in the U. S. Circuit Court at Carson, the defendant having secured new and pertinent testimony.

Those who are under the impression that the public schools are to be open on Saturdays are mistaken. The schools were open to-day to make up the time lost by the teachers Thanksgiving Day, and in order to make their month even.

If you want a nice Sunday lunch go to Doc Bowman's produce store and buy a can of Booth's Baltimore oysters. Bowman received a case of them this morning, and they arrived as fresh and sweet as the day they were taken from their native bed.

When you want to purchase anything read the columns of the GAZETTE. The business men who advertise keep up with the times and sell goods which they are not afraid to submit to inspection. Printers' ink is the medium by which enterprising merchants acquire wealth.

Santa Claus is getting ready for Christmas, and is filling Nasby's Bazaar with a thousand different toys and fancy articles for both young and old. Nasby is half-brother to old Santa, and therefore has excellent opportunities for obtaining the best holiday goods the market affords.

The show-window of the White House is a great attraction to passers-by, but, though very tastefully arranged, it is nothing to what may be seen inside the large store, which is crammed with the most elegant goods ever seen in Nevada. Step in and be astonished at the fine clothing and furnishing goods Abraham Bros. will show you.

Church Notices.

There will be divine services at Trinity church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock and evening service at 7 o'clock.

There will be services at the Congregational church, A. B. Palmer, pastor, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and 7 P. M. Sunday School at 12:15. Seats free, and a welcome for all.

Quarterly meeting services will commence in the Methodist Episcopal Church this evening at 7 o'clock. Love feast at 10 A. M. on the Sabbath, followed by the usual services. Rev. Mr. Luke, P. E., will officiate.

Services in the Baptist church at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M., by the pastor, Rev. E. B. Hatch. Morning subject: "The Christian Law of Social Life." Evening: "Righteous Over Much." Seats free and strangers made welcome.

A COAT OF TAR AND FEATHERS

A Renote Tells How It Feels to Wear One—A Terrible Punishment.

Ever since the man Jones was tarred and feathered in Reno three or four years ago, hard cases of all sorts have given the town the go-by, and tramps have for the most part avoided it as if there were small-pox at every corner.

"Most people," said a prominent Renote to a Virginia Chronicle reporter, "don't know what a terrible punishment tarring and feathering really is. They suppose that it is nothing worse than a badge of infamy, rather uncomfortable, perhaps, but not painful, unless the tar gets into the eyes. This is a great mistake. I helped to daub Jones. He was a vile beast, a disgrace to humanity, and he deserved what he got for endeavoring to

RUIN AN INNOCENT GIRL.

And for grossly insulting respectable women on the streets. But I had no idea until I saw that fellow plastered with a tough deal the process is. We painted him all over pretty thick with a broom, and some enthusiastic vigilante poured a few gallons of tar on his head. Then the feathers, taken from a big pillow, were dusted on him, and he stood out white and fluffy in the starlight, like some huge and grotesque-looking bird. He had to put his clothes on over the whole mess, and then he was ridden on a rail for fifty yards or so, and we put him on board the west-bound train at midnight with instructions not to come back on pain of being hanged. I saw him on the train. He was sitting with his head on his arms on the back of the seat in front of him. The tar was so thick on his head that it covered the hair out of sight, and his poll shone in the light of the car lamps like a black rubber ball just dipped in water. The poor fellow was groaning, and I couldn't help feeling mean at having taken a hand in the job. You see the body is covered with short hair, and

WHEN THE TAR HARDENS

A little the slightest movement causes acute pain, as if one's beard were being pulled out with pliers, hair by hair. Then there is the stoppage of all perspiration, which would soon kill a man if he didn't make lively time in getting scrubbed. Besides, the smell of the tar turns the stomach, and about half an hour after a man has been coated he must feel mighty sorry he wasn't hanged. Then comes the scrubbing with oil. It took two Chinamen and a darkey three days in Truckee to reduce Jones to a mild brown. The rubbing makes the skin tender, and the body must be as sore as a boil for weeks."

"Do you think they will tar any tramps in Reno shortly?" asked the reporter.

"I don't know," replied the Washoe man, "but I hope not." "No such punishment should be inflicted on a man except for some crime for which death would hardly be too severe a penalty."

PERSONALS.

A. E. Ross is in from Long valley.

Wm. Ball of Long Valley is in town.

J. W. Alexander of Hamilton is at the Palace.

Governor J. W. Adams was here last evening.

General C. S. Preble has returned from the Bay.

Wm. Geary of Wadsworth is registered at the Arcade.

G. N. Folsom of the firm of Marlette & Folsom is in town to-day.

Mrs. R. M. Clarke and Miss Stella Gates of Carson are visiting friends in Reno.

J. G. Looper and Walter Keely of Madeline Plains are stopping at the Arcade.

Lieutenant-Governor C. E. Laughton came in from the East last night where he had been to meet his wife.

A. Lindley, the Reno grocer, is back from Sacramento. A large stock of choice groceries will shortly follow.

Dolph Shane of Virginia went East this morning to look after some mining property in the eastern part of Nevada.

Prof. Nelson Carr, principal of the Reno public schools, was married on Thanksgiving day to Miss Anna M. Henry of Silver City.

M. San Pedro of Grantsville, Nye county, will probably return from the Bay on to-morrow morning's train, and remain in Reno a day or two.

David J. Green, formerly baggage-man of the Central Pacific, and stable keeper and turf man, was thrown from a buggy day before yesterday in Oakland, and died. He leaves a wife and family. He was well known in Reno and along the C. P.

Old Cornucopia District.

This district, now deserted and containing but two or three inhabitants, is still regarded by many as having merits that will sooner or later be developed. The three mines on which machinery has been in operation, the Leopard, Hussey and Panther, have produced a large amount of bullion, the Leopard alone having shipped over a million and a half. The Hussey, Panther and Constitution have been relocated, and the assessments are promptly kept up.

SUPPOSITIONS.

Characters That may be Found in Every Town.

It is supposed—only supposed, you know—that a public spirited citizen started out with a subscription paper to raise a small amount for making a preliminary survey for a ditch, preparatory to starting a woolen mill, or any other institution of public benefit, to utilize the power of the Truckee river, or, for instance, to sink an experimental shaft in prospecting for coal, and in his rounds came across the following characteristic persons who are very likely to be found in almost every town.

He met the town hog, who came to the place without a dollar, and had made a comfortable fortune, speculating on the ignorance, credulity, or misfortunes of the inhabitants, or the financial embarrassments of the municipality, and who when asked to contribute 25 cents to the $15 fund, said he had no money to invest in "such speculations."

He met the small-souled chap, who refused to contribute because somebody else did not.

He met a lordly chap, who gave 15 cents, as he said, without any expectation of ever seeing it again, but as an act of charity, and to get rid of the solicitor.

He met the avaricious gentleman, who would not subscribe unless the experimental shaft was sunk on his land, and with the proviso that no other persons be permitted to dig for the coal within five miles of him.

He met a low spirited citizen who told him he was a fool for trying to do anything "in this town."

He met the fractious bull-head who was going to "buck agin" the project on general principles.

He met the large minded man, who was satisfied the experimental boring would cost "thousands of dollars," and so was unwilling to contribute to an insufficient fund.

He met the little great man who had not been approached in the proper manner and by the proper party, and so would do nothing. He would rather the community at large would suffer and the enterprise fail than to give anything unless there was some fuss made over him.

He met the man who wanted it announced in the papers if he gave 50 cents, and the brass band brought out if he condescended to bestow his patronage on the matter.

He met several public-spirited, liberal-minded citizens, who willingly and gladly contributed to the enterprise, the desired fund was raised, the work went on, and the little town grew into a bustling city, and supplied a large country with articles of commerce which would never have been manufactured had its great resources remained undeveloped. This may all be supposition, but it contains a pile of truth if Renotes will go to work and dig it out.

STRUCK BY THE CARS.

Phil Boody Probably Fatally Injured By a C. P. Locomotive.

This morning Phil Boody, a teamster, was crossing the Central Pacific track at what is known as the "chalk cut crossing," about one mile west of town, with a two horse team en route to the mountains, when his wagon was struck by the locomotive pulling freight train No. 8 going west. Boody was pitched into a pile of rocks and probably fatally injured. He has been in an unconscious state ever since the accident, and can give no account of how it occurred. Boody's chest is broken in and internal hemorrhage is very great. Dr. Beigman thinks his injuries will most certainly prove fatal, although he had not been able to make as thorough an examination as he desired owing to Boody's condition, as he was very weak and bleeding profusely internally. The accident occurred on a very sharp curve in the road just east of the Chalk hill cut and the engineer could not see but a short distance ahead of his pilot. It is a very dangerous crossing, and the railroad company should have a signal to warn travelers of the danger in time for them to escape a train or engine.

Something About the Bible.

People who are counting the words in the Bible to win the prize of $30 offered by an eastern publishing house can save themselves considerable trouble by reading the following, which was furnished the Appeal by a clergyman of Carson: Letters, 3,506,489; words, 773,692; verses, 31,174; chapters, 1,189; books, 66. The word "and" appears 46,227 times, and the word "Lord" 1,855 times. And curiously enough the word "eternity" only once. It is found in Isaiah. This enumeration is taken from the unrevised edition of King James' Bible.

Purchase at Home.

Why send to Worth, Felix or Pingat for handsome visiting costumes in velvet, satin, or brocade when F. Levy & Bros. can furnish you just as handsome patterns? The stock kept by this firm is elegant, and they sell for prices that the ladies of Nevada can afford to pay. Call and examine their goods.

Foul Places That Breed Disease and Death.

The following from the Sacramento Bee will apply to Reno directly: Rank disorders are prevalent in consequence of the impaired and neglected condition of the sewers and streets, and while this condition of affairs does not exist to any very great extent in this city, still there is not much for us to boast of in this particular. There are numerous cellars along the business thoroughfares where scarcely a ray of light or pure air is allowed to enter from the beginning to the end of the year, and which are made receptacles for various kinds of rubbish, which there molds and rots, generating foul and disease-breeding gases which poison the atmosphere. Then, again, people generally seem to think the alleys of the city were intended as dumping-grounds for all kinds of garbage and refuse house matter. Therein all the deceased canines and felines are deposited, likewise poisoned rats, mice, the unused portions of game, poultry, vegetables, fish, etc., while down town the alleys are put to even worse uses, under cover of night, and generally present a most filthy and disgusting appearance during the day. That such things could exist and the city remain healthy would be contrary to all natural laws, hence it is not at all strange that there should be sickness about. If each family would see to it that its own premises are kept neat and clean, much of the trouble that now exists could be avoided. And those who do not do so voluntarily should be compelled to.

Tapp, the Horse-Breaker.

Professor R. H. Tapp of Oakland is visiting Reno for a few days. He is a noted horse-breaker, and has tamed many of the most vicious animals. He came near finding his match, however, when he undertook to subdue Cognac, a large Percheron stallion, in Sonoma county, Cal., a few years ago. The fierce animal seized Tapp and shook him as a terrier would a rat. The horse had killed several persons, but eventually yielded to Tapp's treatment and submitted to being driven in harness. He was probably one of the wildest brutes any man ever attempted to conquer.

Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. No cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. By druggists.

Visitors.

Wm. Mooney, the Comstock livery man, paid Reno a visit yesterday; also J. P. Flanningham, County Clerk elect of Storey county. The twain were entertained by Thomas Kerr Hymers. Mr. Mooney says times are dull on the Comstock, but he looks for better times soon. Mooney keeps one of the best stables in the county and is sure of doing a good business when there is any to do. Renotes visiting Virginia can rest assured that their stock will be well cared for if they put up at Mooney's.
